DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of 144-150 in the reply filed on 3/29/07 is acknowledged.

Double Patenting

2. Claims 144-150 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 98-107 of copending Application No. 10/722,015 and over claims 119-130 over copending Application No. 10/721,491. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the copending applications '015 and '491 includes a radiation therapy system for treating a target of a patient using a wireless marker implanted in the patient at a site relative to the target with a detector that obtains position data of the marker and a computer coupled to the detector having an operable medium. In addition, the delivery device is configured to automatically move a patient support table according to the offset coordinate.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 144-150 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cosman (US 6,405,072).

Claims 144-150: Cosman discloses a radiation delivery system having a radiation source 16, a patient support F, and drive system 10 (col. 4, lines 1-20). In addition, wireless markers 20, 21, 23, and 24 may be implanted in a patient are excitable by the source and are detected by a plurality of sensors 17-19 (col. 4, lines 13-39). The data processor 34 storage memory (col. 6, lines 5-7) receives information from the sensors related to the actual position of the marker, determines the actual location of the treatment target in a reference frame based on the position information of the marker, computes a displacement between the target and beam isocenter in three dimensions in real-time provided to an operator, control system, and/or radiation delivery device based on the position of the treatment target, and automatically controls the radiation beam and/or moves the patient support based on the computed displacement between the actual location of the target and beam isocenter, which reduces a displacement between an actual location and a desired location (col. 4, lines 48-61; col. 5, lines 8-45; col. 7, lines 1-11). Further, the system is capable of tracking the target relative to the reference frame by repeating the receiving and determining procedures while moving the patient (col. 7, lines 1-11).
